D-Marin Turgutreis

36°59'59"N, 27°15'21"E VHF 72

D-Marin's elegant flagship marina is located just 20 km away from beautiful Bodrum and features an award-winning marina village and heliport.

Location

D-Marin Turgutreis sits on the magnificent Bodrum peninsula, renowned for its stretching sandy beaches, steep mountains and surrounding sun-drenched islands. The marina is 50 km southwest of Milas-Bodrum Airport and 243 km south of Izmir Adnan Menderes Airport. Moreover, being only 20 km from the bright lights of Bodrum, you will never be at a loss for things to do. That said, Bodrum is not only about partying and thrills but is also steeped in impressive history. Ephesus, Halicarnassus, and Miletus, are important archeological coastal sites. A leisurely sail away are 14 Turkish islands and the Greek islands of Kos (7NM), Kalymnos (14 NM), Rodos (70 NM). Gorgeous Kos is steeped in history dating back to Homeric times (a contingent from Kos participated in the siege of Troy) and the ancient gymnasium and odeon are still marvelously well-kept.

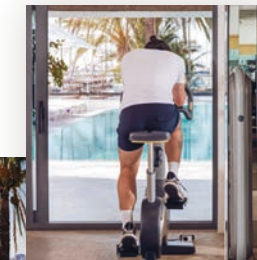

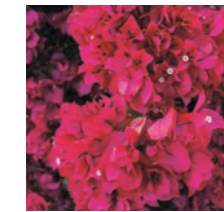

Nature

Nearby island highlights include Karaada's healing mineral springs (said to have been frequented by Cleopatra) and the translucent seas and pretty olive groves of Orak. Opportunities abound for scenic watersports; the coastal abode of Kadikalesi and Akyarlar are known as one of the world's windsurfing hotspots.

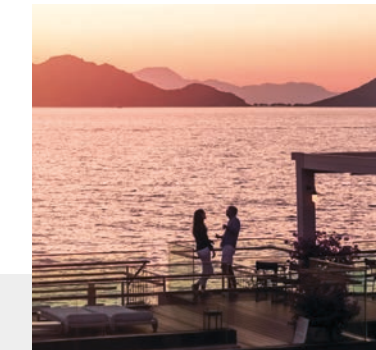

Cuisine

When in Bodrum, savour some of Turkey's traditional street food from gözleme, a flatbread filled with goat cheese, vegetables and spices to dolmas, grape leaves stuffed with meat and rice with freshly squeezed lemon juice. Wash it all down with a glass of raki. D-Marin Turgutreis Yacht Club offers all these unique tastes and more.

Culture

A city steeped in rich history, Bodrum showcases a magnificent castle built in the 14th century by the Knights of St John, the ancient Bodrum Amphitheatre and the remains of the Mausoleum of Halicarnassus, also known as the tomb of King Mausolus, dating back to 352 B.C.

MUST-SEE

Mosey around the sweet fishing village of Gümüşlük and the miniscule Rabbit Island that you can walk to from village shores through knee-deep seawater. Named after its furry inhabitants, Rabbit Island is an active archeological site, home to the ruins of Myndos, a drowned ancient Greek colony. Sail into safe harbour on a scenic bay to wander the chic town of Türkbükü, Turkey's answer to Saint-Tropez. Stroll down its semi-circular boardwalk, popping into elegant shops, stylish bars and upscale restaurants. Roam the remains of the ancient city of Ephesus, built in the 10th century B.C. and famed for its striking Temple of Artemis. Gape at the monumental theatre capable of holding 25,000 spectators and the Library of Celsus, once the third largest in the world.
